נושא: FIDIC Centenary Awards - Nominees

Dear colleagues,

As part of the FIDIC Centenary celebrations in Barcelona 2013, FIDIC will recognise and applaud the best consulting engineering achievements of the last 100 years, to help publicise the work of consulting engineers and the contribution they make to the way we all live, as well as to celebrate FIDIC's centenary.

The award nominations have been made by FIDIC members. The projects nominated have been designed by a member firm and they will be judged against a number of criteria including international recognition, technical excellence, innovation, how well they have endured and their sustainability.

Thanks to the participation of our members in the nomination process, all of the nominations have now been submitted. Nominations have been made in the following categories:

- Major Building Project of the Last 100 Years
- Major Civil Engineering Project of the Last 100 Years
- Leading Consulting Engineers of the Last 100 Years

FIDIC now asks for your continued participation as the 2013 Centenary event grows ever closer. In order to further publicise the nominees we would like to ask you to help us with this goal. Below you will find a link to our webpage dedicated to the Centenary nominees. The opportunity for this link to be highlighted via your websites and member newsletters would be greatly appreciated.

Also, you will find attached a logo of the FIDIC Centenary Awards that may be useful for you to publicise this important event on your websites. For your information, all nominees pictures are also available on the FIDIC Facebook page.

Thank you for your assistance in helping us better represent and highlight the achievements of the ever valuable consulting engineering industry.

With best regards,

Italo Goyzueta
